On October first, Barnard celebrated its fourth Founder's Day. Sponsored by SGA since its origin in 1988, it was accompanied for the first time by a vendor fair on 116th Street. Jewelry, clothing, and different ethnic foods were abundantly displayed, along with a band, a balloon-maker on stilts, a palm-reader, and the Barnard bear to entertain fair-goers.

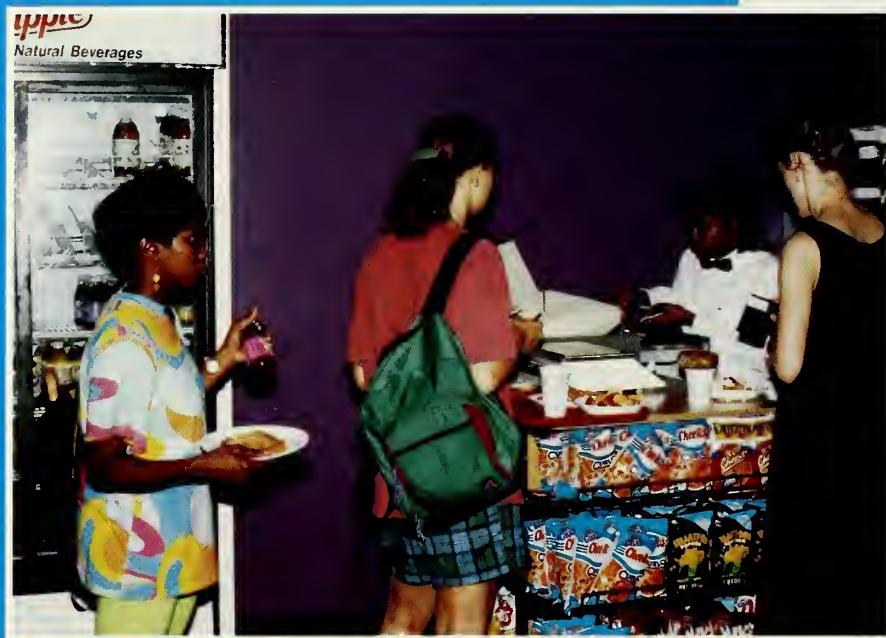

Most frequently asked questions at Barnard
 Is Mc open?
 Are the tunnels closed?
 Can I use your phone?
 Did I get any mail?
 What's at the cart?
 Meal or points?
 Pickles and chips?
 When's the paper due?
 When's our next break?
 What do you mean MAY!?
 Do you have a Tylenol?
 What library fines?

The Lunch Crunch

Various members of the Barnard community find something to smile about.

On the rare occasions that students find some free time, they enjoy catching up with their friends.

Seniors start to feel the weight of the world on their shoulders.

Office of the President

To the Members of the Class of 1993:

These four years have been ones of progressive curricular change in the College and revolutionary shifts in world affairs. I do not know how the world will look tomorrow or next year, but whatever occurs, I am sure that the knowledge and skills you have gained in your undergraduate years will stand you in good stead.

From the time you came to Barnard you have been, individually and as a class, marked by the ability to help yourselves and the impulse to reach out to others--by the will to make things happen. Certainly you need no prompting from me to continue standing on your own feet and opening your hearts to those around you.

What I do want to urge you to do is to keep your ties with each other and with the College. In these undergraduate years you have laid the foundation for a lifelong network of friendships and for an enduring relationship with this institution. Don't let either languish for want of attention and care. Even as your abilities, your spirit, and your commitment take you far, stay in touch with your classmates and keep a bond with the College.

You have our confidence and our affection, and we wish every one of you the best of luck and much happiness both personally and professionally.

With warmest wishes,

Sincerely,

Ellen V. Futter
President

Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs
(212) 854-2024

Dear Class of '93,

Perhaps few among you remember the main events of your Orientation, much less the doggerel I recited in your honor. I said then that I would recycle it for your graduation, and here it is:

You are the Class of '93--
A phenomenon, a prodigy,
Like no other class in our history,
Each as different as you can be,
Though all in pursuit of the same degree!

You are the Class of '93--
Possessing awesome ability,
Unfettered by conformity,
And quite aware that diversity
Can make a strong community.

You are the Class of '93--
Already in ascendancy:
Headed for fame, we all agree,
As we marvel at the complexity of the wonderful Class of '93!

Well, I certainly had perspicacity! You will, each in her own way, forge ahead. And, if my prophetic powers are as good now as they were four years ago, you will come back to see each other and the College. We shall welcome you whenever you return, and we expect to hear from you often.

Affectionately,

BARNARD HAS DISCOVERED AN INTERESTING COMPROMISE --
"MODERN" BUILDINGS AND
"ANCIENT" TREES --
ALL ON AN URBAN CAMPUS

Sights
And Sounds
Of Broadway

In a few months I won't be greeted by familiar treetops heavy with birds as I ascend from the depths of the subway pits. The tired morning shuffle of book-laden, deadline-threatened women will trade their J. Crew for caps and gowns. They will fan their faces with their theses in May heat like the promise of a hymn. It's hard to believe Tom's Restaurant and the Hungarian Cafe will prosper without my business; that the doughnut cart will still be parked outside the gates and that McIntosh coffee will still rival most gasolines for high octane content. We are well acquainted with the necessary campus facilities; we move undaunted in the stacks and we've cracked the Rolm code. We've subsisted on meal cards and thoughtful literature cluttering our mailboxes, certainly obstructing the traffic of any real mail. We've challenged our credit limits, our caffeine intake levels, our roommates' tolerance and our professors' wits - how could I hand something in when the entire city (TV networks) is disabled by the World Trade Center disaster?

We've accustomed ourselves to McIntosh pizza and midnight Quad Cafe popcorn breaks. We are student activists and environmentalists - we recycle everything including excuses and high school paper topics. We've had blind dates better than our interviews, played volleyball on Butler lawn, built snowmen in front of Journalism, caught the sun on the Low steps, contemplated philosophy and critiqued messages in the bathroom stalls. We tripped and fell in love, recovered and did it again, made New Year's resolutions every month of the semester, gave up chocolate Reeses peanut butter cup breakfasts, briefly sang in a band, envied the animated life of Walt Disney characters, constantly detoured through the Quad Cafe on our way to the pool room in FBH, found private nooks, cherished favorite books and learned that stress is easily relieved by cheesecake, friends and cheerful instructors. - Ann O'Connor BC '93

OVERSLEPT,

Chronology of a last-minute paper:

8:00 pm Oh, that's right I have a fifteen page paper due tomorrow. It's still early.

8:30 pm Relax, take a shower before I get started.

9:00 pm I guess I should start the paper.

10:00 pm What was the topic?

10:30 pm Staring at the computer screen.

11:00 pm Hoping an idea will jump onto the screen. TIME PASSES

3:00 am I'm on my twentieth cup of coffee and I only have the introduction down.

4:00 am The sun's coming up soon and I'm still not finished.

6:00 am Yah! The first page is done.

7:00 am I'm on a roll don't stop me now-page two done! MORE TIME PASSES

2:00 pm My eyeballs feel like they are going to drop out. My computer and I are on an intimate basis now. I'm completely water logged from all the coffee I've consumed. But my paper is DONE!!!!!!!!!!

2:10 pm Hand the paper in. I won't ever have to look at this paper again!!!!

STRESSED?!?! Everyone has experienced what it means to be stressed at some point in their lives. Actually, ever since the day you were born, stress was probably a predominant factor in your life. However, in those good ole days, the biggest worry of the day was should I go out and play now or should I go out and play later?

If we stop and think about it, though, how could we live without stress in our lives? Come on, really, don't you enjoy getting less than twelve hours of sleep during the entire week of finals? Or how about those over-fifteen-page term papers? Staying up all night staring at my computer screen is what I call fun.

SO TIRED.

Despite all the moaning and groaning we do, the paper eventually gets done. After going to the bathroom for the tenth time, we go to bed feeling exhausted but relieved that the torture is over. Yet in the back of our minds we know it's not the last time: unfortunately, there are many other papers to come!

New York

There is a small place on 8th Street near Avenue A whose rosy glow pulls you in from the street. The waiter there knows I like Shepherd's pie and she always gives me extra soda bread and cheerful conversation. The bathroom here is scrawled with poetry and testimonies. Patrons brood over the tea here, staring meaningfully into one another's eyes, being lulled into comfortable oblivion, wondering who will pick up the check. Most of the time you can catch a kicking local Irish band. Right now it's a place to write, mellow to Jello and appreciate how New York can offer the world's largest everything and the world's

There is a small place in my mind doing back flips thinking about my first pretzel, trip to the zoo, the museum, Rockefeller center, Santaland in Macy's, my first cab ride to Radio City. Living in New York my whole life, it may be hard to communicate how incredible it is to see the Empire State Building lit up every night. I see it every day, right? It's a small security, like double checking your locks before going to bed, another feature of this great city. Do you know what the greatest city is, by the way? Genro-SITY. (A homeless person on Broadway told me that once.)

Is this giddy, spinning-out-of-balance-feeling, love? or am I suffering from an inner ear infection? Coming up for air from the subway into a calliope of lights, sound and motion is like lifting a lid of a music box. No hopes for lullabyes in this city that never sleeps- this wonderful moody city whose rainslicked, smoky streets make a perfect Bogart film location.

This is what it must feel like: all those silly clichés and more - not just Fourth of July fireworks, but the Macy's Parade, too. We can take a carriage ride through Central Park at midnight (they give a discount then), We can dance on the top of the Empire State Building, make snow angels in Sheep's Meadow and then have our pictures taken in one of those sticky, tacky Woolworth's photo booths.

I couldn't stop thinking about you last night. Every siren exploded and every garbage can was overturned to distract me. Someone practiced the violin upstairs and the Andersons have been fighting again..But even Les Mis would be tough competition for thoughts of you that still linger in the steam of my coffee. I think of the votive candles flirting with your eyes in a Coffeehouse on Bleeker Street: cappuccino clinging to your lip; I think I envy that cup.

I rode the carousel the other day. You won't believe where- on Mulberry Street: a double decker carousel grinding out Christmas carols in November.

My friend gave into my whim, although, I suspect she might have hoped to have a warm male body beside her. But we were spinning too fast to notice and we might have thrown up on our beloveds and that wouldn't be attractive.

Little Italy is a feast of delightful smells: garlic and oil, cheese, pastry, coffee. Ferrara's is always a favorite spot, but I'm still determined to eat in every restaurant named Angelo's. Where was that restaurant where the owner turned up the light music and turned down the lights when he saw me reach over the grated Parmesan to touch your hand?

Little Italy's tiny tenement rows open up into Chinatown bustle. Do not walk there during the rain: You can really be maimed by all of the open umbrellas. Not recommended for the claustrophobic. I ate some dumplings with thoughts of you.

How could you stay away from New York? The cultures, the museums, art galleries, theatre shops. Where else can one sample the finest in design- 5th Avenue, trendy bohemian Village, folksy vendor fairs, Macy's, the Seaport and still be able to purchase an assortment of air fresheners or silverware from the open air K-Mart 125th Street style, or maybe a multicolored troll or glow in the dark yo-yo from the subway boutique.

I remember the first time you kissed me. I remember you had a big glop of mustard on your cheek and I watched it sink into your dimple when you smiled thinking I was watching the ice skiers. I remember the way you leaned in as if to ask me the time and then kissed me as the train rattled into the station. We swayed together- This could be our song, a little off key, but strong tapping down the tiles of 5th and 53rd.

I have a feeling there is a lot for us to do. When we see all the current films we can see the revivals or rent a foreign film. We won't need MTV or a Sports Channel. The celebrities and teams come to us.

*I hope to meet you soon
Please hurry home to me
'Till the lights go down on Broadway.*

"Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. And now these three remain: faith, hope, and love. But the greatest of these is love."

The ACAP is a non-profit student volunteer organization of Columbia University dedicated to interaction and outreach in New York's various Asian communities. Sponsored by the Asian Students Union, the Chinese Student's Club, the Korean Students' Association, and Club Zamana, ACAP currently has eight different projects working with the Chinese, Japanese and Korean American populations of New York. In the coming year, it will expand to serve the Asian Indian community as well.

BARNARD BULLETIN

The Barnard Bulletin is a weekly newsmagazine devoted to discussing relevant issues and events both on and off campus. There are five sections: news, features, women's issues, arts, and commentary. Circulation is approximately 5,000. The Fall '92 semester was divided between two staffs with some overlap; the first five issues of the semester were done under Janie Iadipalo as Editor-in-Chief, and the subsequent five issues were published under Tiara Bacal Korn Editor-in-Chief.

BARNARD ORGANIZATION OF BLACK WOMEN

BIOLOGY CLUB

Co-Presidents: Wai Yee
(Anna) Chung & Susan
Pack

Treasurer: Raha Mootabar
Secretary: Faythe
Mutchnick

Founded in 1978, the Barnard Biology Club helps to unite students interested in Biology and related fields. The club is run by students under the guidance of Professor Nathan Chu. The club holds informative panels in which Barnard professors, medical doctors, research scientists, and alumnae in the various fields of biology are invited to speak to students. We also go to various places: Black Rock Forest, Bronx Zoo, and the Central Park Zoo, for example.

BLACK STUDENT ORGANIZATION

CAMPUS CRUSADE FOR CHRIST

CARIBBEAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Dedicated to building and strengthening a conscious community, we educate one another, share with one another and laugh with one another.

CEDA Debate

CEDA debaters argue with evidence on both sides of a national resolution with changes semesterly. The team travels widely throughout the USA.

CHICANO CAUCUS

CLASS OF 1993

President - Sun Min
 Vice President - Michele
 Downs
 Treasurer - Karen Kahrs
 Secretary - Michele
 McCarthy

The events we have had this year so far are Wild Rompers Weekend (which included a party at Earl Hall and a bagel brunch), chat with Dean Schnieder, and a chocolate study break. Up coming events are: a reception, pub night, class dinner, disorientation and much, much more.

COLUMBIA REVIEW

Editor: Jennifer Wiener
Associate Editors: Helen McBrearty, Carl Brooks

Columbia Review is a literary magazine which publishes both poetry and prose. This year, for the first time since we began publication in 1815, we became recognized by the Barnard Student Government Association. (Previously, we were a Columbia College magazine.) We are proud to finally become the publication of both campuses!

EARTH COALITION

Coordinators: Susan Chiang, Diane Pataki, Jason Rosenbury, Jayne Park, Judy Yablonski, Raquel Centano, Alexz Villari

As Earth Coalition members on campus, we meet for study group discussions on a particular environmental topic, table on pressing issues that require petition-signing and letter-writing, and work with the children's groups under Community Impact to educate children on ecology. We also inform the Columbia campus of required recycling practices and promote waste reduction most notably with the sale of reusable thermal mugs. Finally, we work against environmental racism, which materializes in forms such as the Bronx medical waste incinerator.

GLEE CLUB

GOSPEL CHOIR

President: Julio Bermudez
Directors: Terri R.
Brantley, Denise Young

Lifting up the name of the Lord in song, the Gospel Choir is composed of students of the University as well as members of the outside community. An outlet for spiritual inspiration, the Gospel Choir serves not only the University community, but the greater community of our brothers and sisters united in praise.

KOREAN STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

The purpose of KSA is to make Korean heritage, culture and politics available to the whole student body at Columbia University. Thus, in addition to great social events such as parties, picnics, and study breaks, KSA promotes programs in which students can learn more about Korea, the country of "morning calm," with a history of over 5,000 years.

MARCHING BAND

SAILING TEAM

STUDENTS HELPING STUDENTS

Head Coordinators: Sonia Low, Felicia Kang

Advisors: Dean G. Gatch, Mark Hicks

School Coordinators: Levica Narine, Wai Yee Chang, Meredith Rosenthal, Erica Lewis, Geetha Poom Kudy, Liz Luboja, Kathy Wrightson, Alysia Kwon, Karen Vandenblink, Nora Malek

The aim of Students Helping Students is to provide academic tutoring to New York City Public School students who are at risk of failing. SHS enables Barnard and Columbia students to gain a better understanding of their own education, the problems facing New York City public schools and the community beyond the school gates.

SKIP-STOP EXPRESS

President: Tina Chiappeta

Vice-President: Kathleen
Yen

Treasurer: Ann O'Connor

The Skip-Stop
Express provides a comfortable environment for commuters to get together and relax.
Structuring our social events around the commuters schedule, we hope to compensate for some of the college events that may take place at inconvenient hours.

Women's Varsity Archery Team

WHOOSH . . . . . PHTHOOP!! IT'S IN THE GOLD!!

One never fails to hear these sounds and words when the 15 Barnard, Columbia and SEAS women — who comprise the Women's Varsity Archery Team — are at practice.

The team, a member of the University Athletics Consortium, owes its origins to the decades-long Barnard tradition of maintaining an active female archery team.

Although archery is classified as a winter sport, competitions are held against 5-10 collegiate teams in both the fall and (mostly) spring semesters. There are an average of twelve meets and tournaments each academic year. So far for the year, the team has come in 1st place in the women's team and 3rd place in the mixed team in the FITA East Regional Division tournament.

To our daughter Tamara,

Congratulations on graduating college! We are so proud of you, for you have become an exceptionally intelligent and beautiful young woman. Everything you are and everything you do fills us with joy and pride. You have your whole life ahead of you, so soar Tamara! And remember that we love you always.

Hugs and Kisses,
Daddy, Mommy, Nina, and Ari

To My Baby Girl, Mikki:

God gave us many gifts, but far above any other the first and best gift He gave me, Is the gift of being your mother. I know there are no daughters who share the way we do, for not only are you my daughter, you're my special friend too.

Congratulations on your accomplishments, you're now a college grad, the Lord has really blessed you, thank Him and be glad. I love you, Ma!

Mikki,

I love you, and you love me. I won't tell ma for a small fee. There will never in history be another who treats you and loves you like your little brother. Congrats do-do Love, Pep!

Mikki,

Greater things are within you. Live your life not unwise, but wise. Do not be deceived by empty words. Remember, everything exposed by the light becomes visible. Love, Dad-d

Congrats Mikki,

You made it out, I knew you could, keep on doing all that's good...Love Jorge

DEAR DIANA,

TO OUR DARLING TRACY, THE DAY IS FINALLY HERE
YOU ARE A BARNARD GRADUATE AND WE ALL HAVE A GREAT BIG CHEER
IT WAS ONLY YESTERDAY THAT YOU WERE IN SCHOOL 6
THEN ON TO THE ACADEMY WHERE YOU SURELY HAD LOTS OF KICKS
BUT IT WASN'T UNTIL YOU ATTENDED DWIGHT
THAT THE REAL TRACY LEVY TOOK TO FLIGHT

THOSE SUMMERS AT CAMP YOU CERTAINLY LEFT YOUR MARKS
ESPECIALLY WHEN YOU CROSSED COUNTRY AND HIKE THE PARKS
YOUR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION WAS QUITE A TRIP
YOU MADE US PROUD DESPITE THE QUIP
THEN OFF TO VERMONT TO EXPERIENCE COLLEGE LIFE
YOU WERE SO VERY MISSED WE ALL HAD STRIFE
SO IT WAS BACK TO NEW YORK WHERE BARNARD WAS YOUR CHOICE
OH HOW WE ALL KNEW THAT HERE YOU WOULD HAVE A REAL VOICE
AS A THEATRE MAJOR YOU PLAY YOUR PART
AND WE ARE SO PROUD YOU'RE IN COMEDIE DEL ARTE
BROS MITCHELL, GARY & KEN ALL ROOT FOR YOU
AS YOU ENTER THEIR WORLD AND JOIN THE MILIEU
BUT FOR MOM & DAD YOU MAKE US BEAM
YOU CERTAINLY HEAD THE WINNING TEAM
SO WE'RE HERE TO CELEBRATE OUR VERY OWN STAR
CONGRATS TO OUR TRACY ELIZABETH, YOU'LL SURELY GO FAR.

ALL OUR LOVE

KENNY, GARY, ROBYN, MITCHELL, JILL, KAELY,

AND ESPECIALLY MOM & DAD

Our pride in you is without bounds and our love is without end

Congratulations!
Love always,
Mom, Dad, Don, & Ari

Dear Selena,

Congratulations to you and your classmates.

You have made it and we are very proud of you.

We are with you, like always,

Wishing success in whatever you choose.

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Jessica

I have felt the age-old triangle of mother father and child, with the "I" at its eternal core, elongate and flatten out into the elegantly strong triad of grandmother mother daughter, with the "I" moving back and forth flowing in either or both directions as needed.

Woman forever. My body,
a living representation of other life older longer wiser.

-Audre Lorde

By our lives, be we spirit,
By our hearts, be we women,
By our eyes, be we open,
By our hands, be we whole...

-Sweet Honey and the Rock

Our thanks to the women who have supported us and carried us through our years at Barnard, especially those women whose tenacity and courage helped to create the Rape Crisis Center and whose dedication and love contribute to its perseverance.
